

International Scientific Conference
organized by the Collegium of World Economy
SGH Warsaw School of Economics

World Economy 2019:
Learning from the Past and Designing the Future

Warsaw, May 9-10, 2019

The scientific conference will be organized to celebrate the 70th anniversary of the Collegium of World Economy together with the jubilee of distinguished Professors, who are the Collegium's faculty members.

The event, honored by the participation of both, domestic and international researchers, will provide an excellent opportunity to reflect on the development of international economics and business throughout the decades, paving the way for collaborative shaping of the future.

The World Economy 2019 conference will aim at:

- Discussing and analyzing contemporary theoretical and empirical issues in economics and international business;
- Disseminating of research results and sharing insights with fellow professionals about challenges, dilemmas, and advances related to the development of the world economy;
- Creating an open and inspiring forum for knowledge and experience exchange among academics, business leaders, entrepreneurs, policymakers and practitioners.

We cordially invite papers related to the following conference tracks:

1. International Economic Policy;
2. Challenges to International Business;
3. Politically Incorrect Globalization;
4. Diversity of Capitalism in the European Union;
5. Fifteen Years Since Poland's Accession to the EU Internal Market: More or Less Integration?;
6. China's Belt and Road Initiative - Path Towards a New Economic Order?;
7. International Financial Markets and Corporate Finance;
8. The Problem of Industry Cartelization.
