

★ About OnePress TV ★

OnePress TV is a media platform focused on film and television. We cover the latest film and TV news, upcoming releases, industry developments, and the people behind the productions. We create a wide range of film-related content, including news, interviews, reports, features, and exclusive coverage from events within the international film industry.

An important part of our work is our presence at major international film festivals. OnePress TV attends festivals such as the Berlin International Film Festival and the Cannes Film Festival, where we report directly from the events.

During the festivals, we cover red carpets, press conferences, premieres, industry events, and other activities. We also conduct interviews with actors, directors, producers and filmmakers.

Why Collaborate with OnePress TV?

OnePress TV is a growing media company with an ambitious vision for the future. As our platform continues to expand, we are looking to build long term collaborations with educational institutions.

We offer students the opportunity to gain practical experience within the media, film, and television industry through internships at OnePress TV. Students can work in a professional environment, develop their skills, gain valuable hands-on experience, and build contacts within the industry.

Depending on our current projects and production needs, internship opportunities may include:

- Video Content Creator
- TV Presenter
- Brand Ambassador
- HR and Administration

Future Opportunities at OnePress TV

As a growing company, OnePress TV expects to expand our team and hire additional staff in the near future. This means that an internship can potentially provide students with valuable experience and the opportunity to become part of our future development and workforce.

The internship positions and opportunities we can offer may vary depending on our current projects and needs. Please contact us to find out more about what opportunities are currently available.
